Columbus design-build specialist Scott Hall Remodeling serves clients as the single source needed for a home remodel

It's easy to ruminate on the potential of a home, but when it comes time for remodeling, decision fatigue and budgeting leave many projects best suited for a trustworthy and empathetic team of specialists to bring that unique vision to life.

"I often share with people that our shared humanity is most important. Everything resides within that. Establishing trust and comfort with our clients, from the first consultation through project completion, is our primary intention," says Scott Hall, president and founder of Scott Hall Remodeling (SHR).

"A lawyer helps clients navigate the law. We help them navigate the remodeling world," adds Bryn Hanover, general manager and co-owner. "When clients show us some inspiration photos online, we can find solutions on time and on budget."

Though skilled at remodeling any interior, SHR creates some of its best work in kitchens.

"The function of the kitchen is critical to how you enjoy a home," says Hanover. "The way it's designed determines how you cook, entertain, and come together at the end of the day. You spend a lot of time there, so it should be a space you're proud of."

Plenty of cabinetry provides ample space for storage while highlighting meticulous craftsmanship. A statement-making central island grounds an open kitchen, proving functional pieces can also be beautiful.

suited for entertainment or condensing space to allow more room for storage, SHR finds personalized solutions through questionnaires and transparent conversations that leave clients with excitement rather than stress.

"Remodeling is secondary to who we are," says Hall. "We're selling more than countertops and cabinetry—we're providing clients with an improved way of life."
